

BE A NATURE PRINCESS....AT ANY AGE!

Saturday, June 1st (National Trails Day)
9:00am-Noon
Woodland Dunes Nature Center
Field Station (2754 E. Goodwin Rd)

Limit: 50 princesses of all ages
Free program

This program is inspired by the children's book, "Do Princesses Wear Hiking Boots?" and is destined to be a royally good time!

Hear ye, Hear ye! Daughters, grandmothers, aunts, nieces and other royal descendants are invited to share in the fun of making nature crowns, using dip nets to discover what lives in the water and hiking along the Ice Age Trail.

Princess attire that can get dirty and rain boots - highly encouraged!

Registration required by Tuesday, May 28th. To register, call Woodland Dunes Nature Center at 920-793-4007 or email Jess Johnsrud at jessicaj@woodlanddunes.org.

We appreciate the support of our generous sponsor REI for this Be a Nature Princess event, and we are proud to partner with their Force of Nature initiative engaging women and girls in the outdoors.
